August 17, 2020

Postgraduate Course in Heart Failure London

Dear Professor Lüscher,

I am writing to you in your capacity as the president of the Bulgarian Working Group of Heart Failure and I am pleased to inform you that we have announced a new Postgraduate Course in Heart Failure London.

As you know, heart failure has developed into an important subspecialty of cardiology with many treatment options including lifestyle changes, medications, device therapy, and other interventions. The cardiologist should have proper training in all these aspects of his specialty. The Postgraduate Course in Heart Failure London organized by the London Heart House in collaboration with the Zurich Heart House offers such a training.

Next year’s Postgraduate Course in Heart Failure London 2021-2022 is the next version of the most successful postgraduate course held at the Royal Society of Medicine in Central London with 6 modules of 4 days each, during a two-year period. Each module offers state-of-the-art lectures by internationally known key opinion leaders in the field as well as case presentations, interactive rapid-fire sessions, hands-on courses on imaging, including echocardiography, computed tomography, nuclear and magnetic resonance imaging, as well as training with simulators for pacemakers and CRT implantation and ventricular assist devices among many other features. Each module requires that participants pass an online examination that successfully leads to a certificate in heart failure management. The deadline for application is October 31, 2020. Applicants have to submit a letter of motivation, their curriculum vitae, as well as a support letter by their mentor or supervisor (please see attached flyer and visit our website www.heartfailurecourse.uk).

With this letter we would like to ask you to forward this information, in particular to young colleagues interested in further training in heart failure management as well as to the heart failure working group of your society.

I will be happy to answer any further questions you might have. Thank you very much indeed for your support.

With best regards,

[Signature]

Professor Thomas F. Lüscher, MD FRCP
Course Director

[Enclosure: Flyer – Postgraduate Course in Heart Failure London 2nd edition]

August 17, 2020

Postgraduate Course in Heart Failure London

Dear Professor Lüscher,

I am writing to you in your capacity as the president of the Bulgarian Working Group of Heart Failure and I am pleased to inform you that we have announced a new Postgraduate Course in Heart Failure London.

As you know, heart failure has developed into an important subspecialty of cardiology with many treatment options including lifestyle changes, medications, device therapy, and other interventions. The cardiologist should have proper training in all these aspects of his specialty. The Postgraduate Course in Heart Failure London organized by the London Heart House in collaboration with the Zurich Heart House offers such a training.

Next year’s Postgraduate Course in Heart Failure London 2021-2022 is the next version of the most successful postgraduate course held at the Royal Society of Medicine in Central London with 6 modules of 4 days each, during a two-year period. Each module offers state-of-the-art lectures by internationally known key opinion leaders in the field as well as case presentations, interactive rapid-fire sessions, hands-on courses on imaging, including echocardiography, computed tomography, nuclear and magnetic resonance imaging, as well as training with simulators for pacemakers and CRT implantation and ventricular assist devices among many other features. Each module requires that participants pass an online examination that successfully leads to a certificate in heart failure management. The deadline for application is October 31, 2020. Applicants have to submit a letter of motivation, their curriculum vitae, as well as a support letter by their mentor or supervisor (please see attached flyer and visit our website www.heartfailurecourse.uk).

With this letter we would like to ask you to forward this information, in particular to young colleagues interested in further training in heart failure management as well as to the heart failure working group of your society.

I will be happy to answer any further questions you might have. Thank you very much indeed for your support.

With best regards,

[Signature]

Professor Thomas F. Lüscher, MD FRCP
Course Director

[Enclosure: Flyer – Postgraduate Course in Heart Failure London 2nd edition]